Thank you for submitting your formative.

You have chosen a title from the Unit 1 list for your summative subject which is appropriate.

The core title of your formative suggests a very focused approach to research and subject, however then when you move through your suggested sub-sections for the assignment that focus dissipates as lots of different subsections are introduced as well as the core key title for the assignment.

You have 2,000 words to discuss your assignment title and you MUST chose a topic that is very focused, connected to your subject title and allows you to engage in very focused research from a good cross-section of research resources to answer your assignment title in a very focused manner. If you introduce too many sub sections/topics to your research and discussion you will only achieve shallow research which will not allow a deep critical, 'pros' and 'cons' discussion to take place around focused research.

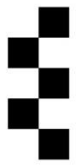

Please bear all of the above in mind and plan your approach to your summative carefully.

The below general information is circulated to all students from formative, looking forward to summative:

For the actual summative, ensure that citation is occurring all the way through your content. In-text citation then needs to be reflected in a list of references at the end of the assignment. That list of references needs to be in alphabetical order at the end of the assignment.

For formative formal academic writing isn't completely necessary, however for summative ensure that your writing style is wholly formal and academic. Also remember to apply page numbers to your summative document. Ensure that your summative has a critical 'pros and cons' view of discussion, looking at both the positives and negatives of the research that you choose to engage with. It is really important not to just look at one side of research. The content of summative needs to examine different publications and look at different perspectives.

As discussed in live seminars and in student support on the online hub, research for this module is just from secondary research, [and so research that is already in the public domain]. No primary research, [interaction with actual people] is to take place in this module.

Wishing you the best of luck now for your actual summative,

With best wishes

Karen
